

SEED MIXTURES

CUSTOM AND NATIVE BLENDS THAT MEET SOIL REQUIREMENTS

Seed mixtures are a crucial component of erosion control systems. When professionally curated, they assist in the promotion of well-rooted vegetation. In return, this helps retain slopes, stabilize soil and more.

We offer a premium selection of seed blends, including native varieties and hydroseeding options. Our product experts can help customers select a specialty seed mix based on project location and requirements. Options include fast germination, full shade, sun and more.

To determine the seed mixture that will generate premium results, call your local Ferguson Waterworks expert and schedule a soil test.
